Customer Reviews

For several years I've enjoyed these Solar System Calendars hanging on the living room wall where you can see it as you walk up the hallway. Always interesting but this one I really enjoy because the numbers are larger than normal easier seen what day it is!

Beautiful calendar made with quality paper. My only problem with the calendar is the pictures of Pluto have not been updated. They are still the pictures from the Hubble space telescope that are enhanced.

Finally a calendar with day numbers large and dark enough to read from across the room, even in low light. The Solar System facts each month are very interesting and informative as well. We had the 2015 Calendar and looked for 2016 (here), and will order 2017 when it comes out.

Beautiful photographs make this calendar a delight to use and gaze at. To those of us with a dated knowledge of the solar system, each month includes helpful and easy to digest facts

A joy to look at and a worthy successor to my 2015 ISS calendar.

EXCELLENT!
